Jan. 18, Little Rock has recorded 8.00 inches of precipitation — 4.00 above normal for the first 33 days of the year. Some precipitation has been recorded in Arkansas on every day of that period except Jan. 26 and Jan. 31.

The Weather Bureau keeps a running tabulation only on rain-fall at Little Rock, but a forecaster said the precipitation at most other cities would approximate the 8.00 reading.

Smarting under the deluge the Little Red, Ouachita, White and Black rivers are threatening to escape their banks. The Ouachita, a perennial flood threat to low-lying communities, is expected to crest at 25 feet, three feet above flood stage, at Camden Sunday. Upstream, the river already is approaching flood stage at Arkadelphia.

The Black's 15-foot flood stage at Black Rock is expected to be exceeded by three or four feet tomorrow, and flood stage on the White at Clarendo is forecast for Wednesday.

The Little Red measured six feet above flood level at a Weather Bureau station near Heber Springs yesterday. All sections were hit hard by some precipitation yesterday. Fayetteville recorded two inches of snow, while Fort Smith, Harrison and Green Forest had an inch or more.

A downpour of 2.09 inches of rain fell on Little Rock, and Pine Bluff's streets were flooded temporarily by 1.51 inches. Other rainfall measurements included 1.40 at El Dorado, 1.37 at Walnut Ridge and .90 at Filippin.

Says Ike in No Position to Tell Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's personal physician said today "no man who is just 4 1/2 months past a heart attack is in a position yet" to decide whether to seek a second term.

The White House doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, told newsmen with respect to Eisenhower and a decision regarding a second term.

"He should have more time — all the time he needs. He is not at a point yet to know whether he can go ahead and hit the

Paula Hiett Celebrates Birthday

Paula Hiett celebrated her sixth birthday with a party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hiett, at their home on Tuesday afternoon.

After the gifts were opened, games were played with the prizes being won by Mildred Buchanan and Larry Johnson.

The pink and white birthday cake, punch and ice cream were served from the dining table. Favors were party hats and horns.

Guests included Becky Garrett, Pam Fore, Susie Willis, Edith Ann Henley, Gilda Fay Hines, Mil-

ball. Asked how much more time the President should have before he will be in a position to decide on a basis of physical fitness, Snyder replied:

"I would prefer not to say." Snyder's statement that the President should have more time for a decision was bound to be disappointing to Republican supporters who have been hoping that Eisenhower would announce his political plans very shortly.

Despite Snyder's views, however, there was no indication whether Eisenhower actually might decide to put off announcement of a decision for a while.

As recently as a week ago Eisenhower said he still had not made up his mind whether to bid for another term. But he said he would not dilly-dally about making an announcement once his mind's made up.

Pilot Killed, Four Civilians Injured

Two houses were destroyed and three others damaged.

The pilot's name was withheld.

Don't Need the Solid South, Truman Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman today voiced the opinion that the civil rights question would cost some Southern votes for the Democratic party in this year's presidential race.

"But," he added, "we don't need the Solid South to win. That was proven conclusively in 1948."

Truman spoke to reporters accompanying him on his usual early morning stroll. He is here to address a party dinner tonight.

He indicated he intends to take an active role in the selection of a presidential nominee at the party's convention in Chicago.

Asked if he would "do any politicking" at the convention, Truman replied:

"You had better watch me at the convention. You can't keep the harness off an old fire horse just because he's retired."

He said he would not be a Missouri delegate to the convention but would go as a "visitor and free agent."

Other activities on Truman's schedule today included a visit with Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), an aspirant for the Democratic nomination.

Ike Has to Pick Doctor to Listen To

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, if he decides soon, whether to run again, may also have to decide on which of his doctors to listen to.

They seem in disagreement now on when he can tell whether he's physically able to try for a second term. And one of the doctors is either in disagreement with himself or for some reason has changed his mind since December.

Last December Eisenhower's White House doctor and friend, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, and the President's chief medical consultant, Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist, told newsmen.

After a final physical check up in mid-February, Eisenhower should be able to know enough about his physical condition to decide whether to run for a second term. By mid-February Eisenhower will have been 4 1/2 months past his attack.

"It takes longer," Snyder said. "He should have more time—all the time he needs. He is not in a position yet to know whether he can go ahead and hit the ball."

At a news conference Dec. 10 Snyder was asked: "At what date will you be able to pronounce recovery? How much longer would the convalescence have to go?"

Snyder said: "Well, I think if I were in the President's berth and could analyze the situation from his viewpoint, from my knowledge as a physician, that I would not be able to make such a determination . . . for two months . . ."

He was asked: "Are you now saying that it will be at least mid-February before the President's recovery will be complete enough to determine whether he would be physically able to run for a second term?"

Snyder replied: "I would say that . . . I wouldn't do it before mid-February . . ."

On Dec. 17, seven days after the Snyder news conference, White held one and said Eisenhower's doctors would make their crucial test in mid-February.

He said he wanted Eisenhower to resume "pretty much his full job" about Jan. 9 and "four or five weeks added on to that would be the time that we doctors would think desirable for that more or less final test."

He was asked: "Would you think your mid-February examination will determine whether or not he has made a complete recovery?"

White said: "Yes. To date he has made a good recovery. But we haven't had quite long enough time to be sure of his final adjustments."

He was asked: "Do you think you might determine the final adjustment in mid-February?"

White said: "It is quite pos-

Rehearsal Dinner
Osborn-Pyle
Wedding Party

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pyle, Sr., of Little Rock entertained with a rehearsal dinner in the dining hall of Hotel Barlow January 27, at 7 p. m. Honoring their son, Ralph Edwin Pyle Jr., and his fiancée, Miss Martha Ann Osborn.

The table was centered with an arrangement of white stock and carnations. Miss Osborn chose at this time to give her attendants gifts and Mr. Pyle also presented gifts.

Immediately following the dinner party the rehearsal was held at the First Baptist church.

Martha Ann Osborn's
Vows Pledged
Miss Martha Ann Osborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde K. Osborn of this city became the bride of Ralph Edwin Pyle Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Edwin Pyle Sr., of Little Rock, in an impressive double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church of Hope on Sunday January 29, at 3:30 p. m.

The Reverend Dale F. Taylor of Smackover, assisted by Reverend S. A. Whitlow conducted the ceremony before a background of floor baskets containing white stock and gladioli, white tapers burning in seven branched candelabra provided soft light for the impressive ceremony.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Hendrix Spraggins, organist, who accompanied Mrs. Earl Harvey as she sang, "Because" and "Sweet Mystery of Life" preceding the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful floor length gown of tulle and imported French Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with a full skirt and fitted bodice with lace covered buttons down the back, and the lovely portrait neckline. The long fitted sleeves ended in all-points at the wrist. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a miniature hat of tiny ruffles trimmed with jeweled lace flowers. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and Stephanotis tied with satin streamers.

Master James M. Osborn Jr., and Reginald Lee Osborn, nephews of the bride, were ring bearers.

Miss Janis Kizlin of DeLight, was the bride's maid of honor, and she wore a pink tulle floor length gown and carried a colonial bouquet of cerise feathered carnations.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. James W. Hazzard of Shreveport, La. She wore a rose taffeta floor length gown with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her flowers were identical to the maid of honor.

John O. Bowden of Little Rock, served the groom as best man and Ronald Richards of Magnolia and James M. Osborn of El Dorado served as ushers.

Well, all done with the marketing for today. A homemaker's lot is a busy one indeed. Guess I'll relax in a shampoo. Lots of suds and a mirror. Huh, wonder how I'd look as a senorita. Ole! Very dangerous. Not conservative enough for the family, though. How about a towering affair like this? Not too practical in a high wind, I fear. Actually, I should plan ahead for the days when I'm a sophisticated woman of seventeen. Then, I shall wear a pageboy something like this. Oh, my, there's the phone.

Hosiery, hemlines and shoe fashions harmonize beautifully this spring. Low-cut pumps with shaped mid-heels are worn (upper left) with polka-dot afternoon dress that has soft, full skirt. Partners for parties are short blue chiffon evening gown (upper right) and blue vinylite slipper with spindle heels. Black-and-white print dress (lower left) with ballooning sleeves is worn with bare black satin sandals. And simple black pumps (lower right) with nail studded heels pair up with lean sheath skirt in gray wool. Stockings by Hanes are all sheer, all seamless.—By GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

Frustrated Girl —
Find For Another Man

Dear Miss Dix: I met a married man about three months ago and fell head over heels in love with him. At first, I thought he attracted me just because I knew I couldn't go out with him, but when he did ask me out and I accepted, my love grew stronger. At the time we met his wife was expecting a baby and now has a little son.

I know we have a future together, since people as much in love as we are couldn't be kept apart. I am willing to do anything, make any sacrifice to insure our future and I'm sure he'll never regret anything he has to give up. Of course he'll want to see his baby and I would never object to that. This is a hard situation to face, but it can be faced with love and patience.

Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

In a burst of gratitude to God for all that the Lord Christ meant to him the Apostle Paul cried out: "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift" (II Corinthians 9:15).

Divine grace motivated the outburst; but the occasion was a very human incident. Many Gentile Christians in the early churches in Greece and Asia Minor seem to have been fairly well to do, but other Christians, especially in the Church of Jerusalem, were very poor. What Paul called "ministering to the saints" became an act of Christian generosity and brotherliness on the part of the prosperous, toward the needy.

It was the grace of God in the Corinthians, Paul says, that occasioned this giving, and in it both givers and receivers were blessed. For a fitting response to the act of grace was in the prayers and thankfulness of the recipients. This seems to have created a strong bond between Christians in different circumstances, and so far apart geographically as Christianity began its westward course.

"The exceeding grace of God in you." What a fine and remarkable phrase. And what an invitation to all succeeding Christians! It offers to bring into human life the emulation of the divine grace of God!

The graces of giving, prayer, and thankfulness all go together. The story in Luke 17 is the classic story of gratitude and ingratitude, or of thankfulness and the lack of it. Of the ten lepers that Jesus cleansed only one returned to thank Him, or to give praise to God. "Where are the nine?" said the Master.

Were these nine ungrateful, or just lacking in the expression of thanks? They were undoubtedly boundingly happy about being cured. But merely to feel thankful is not enough. Thankfulness or gratitude involves two persons, or it misses its goal. It means as much to the one who receives thanks, or who fails to receive it, as it does to the one who gives it, or who fails to give it. To say so is of the very essence of thanks. Paul said so to God, and we ought to say so to one another.

I had a pleasant experience recently. To a young couple on their first visit to Boston I had shown a little minor kindness which didn't involve much on my part. I was surprised a little later to receive from them a gift in appreciation of the slight service I had rendered.

My first reaction was to regret that the young couple, needing many things, had spent their money on me. But greater than the gift itself, I was moved to deep appreciation of the spirit that suggested it. I was glad, too, that it came from young people. My observation may be at fault but it has seemed to me that in general the present generation, in comparison with my own, tends to take anything done for them as a matter of course.

I hope I am wrong in my impression about present-day young people. But the art of giving thanks is as important as the art of giving. It enriches a life. If in any sense it is a lost art, it needs recovery.

I think I valued their expression particularly because in recent years I had occasionally gone out of my way to do a great deal more for others, who didn't bother even to say, "Thank you."

okay, but his lying isn't. Since you only go "sort of steady" you have no claims and his dating other girls is quite in order. There's no reason for him to lie. On this basis I recommend other and more reliable dates.

Dear Miss Dix: For two months I have been going sort of steady with a sailor. He is stationed 20 miles from my place. When I go to school where he is stationed I call him up. Is this running after him? He has no chance of calling me. Besides, he tells me he doesn't go out with other girls, but I found out he does. Should I continue going with him?

copper wire. This must be dissolved before you can get a good close shave.

Here is her recipe for a good shave:

"First, wash the face thoroughly in soap and hot water to get rid of the grit and dirt dissolving the keratin. This should take at least a minute and a half.

"The lather should be brushed on vigorously for three minutes, to soak the beard thoroughly and dissolve the rest of the keratin.

"Keep the razor wet while shaving. Hold a razor at a 20-30 degree angle. A flat-topped razor is best; it is set at a 25-degree angle. And shave with short firm strokes.

"If you have a tender skin, use cool water applying the lather. "Always shave toward the grain, where the beard is thickest. Shave against the grain only when clearing up the rough spots.

"After shaving, apply an antiseptic talcum powder. Clean the razor but don't dry the blade. Let it dry, itself. It will stay sharp longer.

Miss Schoen is full of beard lore. Here are a few items:

"The average beard has 25,000 hairs and the average man spends two months of his life shaving. "His beard grows from 1/16th to 1/8th of an inch a day. It grows faster in summer than in the winter.

"Beard hairs range from .005 to .008 of an inch in thickness. Shaving doesn't make the beard thicker. Age does it.

"A shave will last longer if you whack your whiskers off after breakfast. Before breakfast your face is still puffy from sleep.

"Blue collar workers today shave just as often as white collar workers, but they often shave at night rather than in the morning.

"The thickness of a man's beard is no index of his virility.

Miss Schoen says that Alexander the Great was probably the first military leader of order, his troops to shave as a military measure.

"He did it so the enemy couldn't grab his men by their beards in close combat," she explained.

U. S. Bobsledder in Daring Bid for Honors

By TED SMIT

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy —
America's daring bobsledders made a record-smashing bid for the four-man championship today and Austria's "miracle man of the skis," Toni Sailer, rang up an unprecedented Alpine grand slam in the Winter Olympics.

Art Tyler, a 40-year-old Rochester, N.Y., physicist, piloted his sledded to third place, behind two fast Swiss entries, after the first two of four runs on Mt. Tofan's chopped-up mile-long chute. But he has less than a second to make up in tomorrow's final shots.

Siler, handsome, 2-year-old plumber, already winner of the giant and special slalom races, became the first triple gold medalist of the seventh games when he won the downhill race in 2 minutes, 52.2 seconds.

The approximately one-mile, 1,020-yard skiing strip, with a sharp drop and lightning surface, was strewn with accidents.

Casualties included two Americans, Ralph Miller of Hanover, N.H., and Marvin Melville of Salt Lake City, Utah; as well as Chiharu (Chick) Igaya, the Dar-mouth star who skis for Japan.
All tumbled. Wallace (Bud) Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., finished in a tie for 11th place.

Austria's third gold medal moved the country nearer Russia in the unofficial team standings.
Russia has a total of 101, Austria following with 69. The United States is sixth with 43 1/2.

Switzerland's No. 1 sled, with the veteran Franz Kapus at the helm, recorded the best time with runs of 1:18 and 1:17.9 for a total of 2:35.19. The championship is determined on total times for four trials.

Behind Kapus, a chauffeur who drives a car for a living and a sled for fun, came the No. 2 Swiss sled, piloted by Max Angst, a Zirich butcher. His times were 1:17.41 and 1:17.85 for 2:35.26.

Marquette to Soon Announce New Coach

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It appeared today that Marquette University will announce before the week is out selection of a new football coach to succeed F. L. "Frosty" Perzacca.

Marquette's newly appointed athletic director, Laurence "Moon" Mullins, said last yesterday he had made a decision on a replacement and sent his recommendation to the University's Athletic Board. He said at Manhattan, Kansas, "Perzacca was not the man I recommended."

The Rev. John Holbrook, athletic board chairman, confirmed that the nomination was received and added that the board would probably consider it either today or tomorrow. "We will probably have a press conference Saturday and announce our decision," he said.

Father Holbrook indicated when Mullins was named to the directorship two weeks ago that the decision to retain or fire Perzacca rested solely with Mullins. He said he felt sure the board would approve Mullins' recommendation.

Perzacca, who has another year to go on a three-year contract paying $10,000 annually, all but threw in the towel yesterday saying, "I sure looks hopeless." A university spokesman said the contract would be honored.

In two years Perzacca's teams won 5, lost 11 and tied 2.

ADMIRAL BYRD'S ROBOT WEATHERMAN—An amazing device is being used to automatically transmit weather information from the frozen wastes of the Antarctic. Slated for four years' use during Adm. Richard E. Byrd's "Operation Deepfreeze," the robot weather station is called "The Grasshopper." Here's how it works. It's dropped by self-detaching parachute from an airplane, upper left, and automatically opens itself, upper right. Then it rights itself, lower left, and goes into action, lower right. Taking weather data at predetermined intervals, the 200-pound device, operating on 60-day batteries, transcribes the information into International Morse Code and transmits it by radio. "The Grasshopper" was developed by the Bureau of Ships and the Naval Electronics Laboratory in Washington, D.C.

THE STORY: James Bennett, private investigator, found the body of Mrs. Alice Osborn, a widow, when he went to her place in an investigation of the death of her late husband Frank. Prior to her death, she had signed a release, allowing an autopsy by the industrial welfare commission to determine if Frank's death was due to industrial causes. Sheriff Abner Cornwalls vows he won't permit the autopsy and tries to get the release from Bennett.

Daily we drag about us every physical comfort of this age. Even our architecture reflects comfort. Yet, how many of us indulge in the Supreme Comfort...the comfort of religion? Folded hands reflect a soul in fellowship with the Almighty. See what aids he has summoned in his hour of need! When your nerves are worn from daily routine, when crisis tear at your soul, when tragedy overwhelms you...do you ever stop to experience the Comfort of Divine Presence? Compare the harried, cross, impatient faces you meet on the street with the crowd you see going to church each Sunday...that should be enough. The strain of modern life is too much. Psychiatrists are stampeded and mental institutions are over-flowing. Our nerves simply can't take it. Why not try this man's remedy? Light a candle, open The Book, fold your hands and get in company with noble souls.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are making religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good as a regular CHURCH, GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

LONDON, (UP) — The Soviet Antarctic expedition includes 4 women, it was reported today.

The Russians did not mention it. It was the French who found out. French scientists returning to Hobart, Australia, from the South Polar regions said they had been in radio contact with most Polar stations and were told the Russians had women stationed at their base at Mirny.

Reports from Moscow said merely that the Soviets are carrying out a policy of peaceful co-existence even in the cold wastelands of the Antarctic. A Soviet Tass news agency dispatched to Moscow said the Australian Antarctic expedition visited the Soviet camp and that the two groups discussed research there.

LONDON, (UP) — Britain has spent $15,120 in the past four years to maintain a mouse watch-station at an airfield, it was disclosed yesterday.

G. R. H. Nugent, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of agriculture, fisheries and food, said in a U. S. citizen, and a team of experts, will try to counteract Russia's trade drive in the strategic Middle East, his friends said. His purpose of the mouse watching and other biological aspects of trip will be the first in a major courier crash in Korea which rea-house mice. He said research was carried on in conditions similar to those in grain stores with a view to finding the two proving methods of control.

BONN, Germany, (UP) — Alfred Krupp, Germany's former secretary to the ministry of armaments, will leave Monday on a high pressure, "clemency" trip to India, Pakistan, Thailand and Egypt, it was reported today.

Krupp, accompanied by his wife, a U. S. citizen, and a team of experts, will try to counteract Russia's trade drive in the strategic Middle East, his friends said. His purpose of the mouse watching and other biological aspects of trip will be the first in a major courier crash in Korea which rea-

West German drive to win trade in those areas.

LONDON, (UP) — Plastic balloons carrying leaflets printed in an East European language landed in Kent county south of London last night.

Officials said they may be propaganda balloons sent into the air by the American-backed Radio Free Europe in Munich and meant for Iron Curtain countries.

TOKYO, (UP) — The Communist radio said today the Reds have day. No confirmation of the report could be obtained immediately from Allied headquarters in Korea which rea-
